

Welcome to the November 2025 update from your support team in Children's, Youth and Intergenerational Work for the United Reformed Church.

Dear Friends,

This is our last bi-monthly of 2025. Following a restructure of the staff team and a more integrated approach to communication from new Faith in Action team in which we now sit, this may be our last newsletter in this format—so enjoy!

It is not too late to join the online learning group working through Children's Ministry Essentials - see below. We are still looking for a volunteer Children's Advocate to ensure the voice of children is heard in our new committee overseeing children's and youth work (see <https://urc.org.uk/jobs/> if this could be you!).

We hope those of you who ordered Advent Unpacked to give to families are as delighted as we are with the quality of this resource—please do share any feedback as we have to make tough decisions about what work to cut going forwards with our smaller staff team.

Praying for a deep encounter with Emmanuel, God with us, for you and all those you work with this Advent and Christmas.

CHILDREN, YOUNG PEOPLE AND YOUNG ADULTS MAKING THE HEADLINES IN THE UNITED REFORMED CHURCH

13 year old Tinashe who applies herself with diligence and enthusiasm has worked hard to learn how to use the projection and sound systems and to live stream the Sunday service. Tinashe's energy and accuracy for her very significant contribution to the weekly worship and is a real blessing to her Church.

Lydia, who is 23 has volunteered as part of the engine team in Greenbelt for the four years that the URC has been running it. She has contributed immensely to the setting up and running of the place. Lydia spent time talking to the 12–17s who use the space helping to ensure it is welcoming and safe. She has a gentle way of coming along side those who are struggling and feeling anxious.

Do you know anyone 25 or under who is playing their part in the mission of God and deserves recognition?

Why not nominate them for the Lundie Memorial Award?
