This short passage from Proverbs is a wise saying from the time of King Solomon in the Bible. It's not saying you'll get lots of money by being kind, even if it sounds that way. There are other ways of doing well and the whole world does better if we are kind and share what we have.

Why not have a go at making some refreshing lemonade to share with your friend or your family? This recipe makes about three cups full. You will need 250g sugar, three cups of cold water and four lemons. Put the sugar and half a cup of water in a saucepan and heat, stirring constantly, until the sugar is all dissolved. Put it in a clean mug and allow to cool, then pop it in the fridge. Roll the lemons on a work surface (this helps the juice loosen) then cut in half and squeeze over a sieve to catch the pips. Put the juice in a jug with the rest of the water then stir in the syrup from the fridge. Serve over ice for a really refreshing drink.

A prayer for when you share something with someone else:

God bless the person I'm sharing with and God bless me
Amen

Bible Reading

Proverbs 11:25

The generous will prosper;
those who refresh others will themselves be refreshed.

I wonder how you might refresh others?

(Generous means being kind and giving, prosper means doing well. Being refreshed is like the feeling you get when you have a drink after being really thirsty. How could you say this proverb using easier words?)
